News From Your TOWN HALL

City Clerk Dutch Wallis, accomplished by Slim Delone, of the police force, have gone to Atlanta, where Slim will visit his brother in camp and Dutch will accept for the town a new Plymouth sedan.

The purchase of 50 additional water meters has been authorized. Thirteen of these meters will go in the new development which is to be begun shortly under FIA direction, just off the West Palm Beach road, and just east of the Starling home.

Garbage permits for the current quarter are now on sale at the Town Hall.

Further than this action news at the Town Hall is normal.

ROTARY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Lou Betzner, president, announced the election of Dick Townsend as president for the coming year of the local Rotary Club.

The board of directors, composed of George Royal, Dick Townsend, Nattie Taylor, Jimmie Ball, George Royal, Joe Friedland, select the president from their midst.

Roy Bayer was re-elected secretary and Tommy Forsee was elected as treasurer.

The new officers will take office before the state convention to be held in June.

Local Legionnaires Prepare To Assist Returning Soldiers

Tom Bregger, commander, appointed a committee of the local post, whose business it is to "see that returning veterans of this war secure their full benefits."

In the discussion of a motion from the floor for this purpose, it was pointed out that several veterans have returned physically handicapped, or with previous physical conditions aggravated to a serious point.

The national Legion program for rehabilitation which has passed the Senate overwhelmingly provides, hospitalization, payment of benefits, schooling for from one to four years under the direction of the Veterans Administration.

Ralph Freeman, Marvin Perry, Luke Jones, together with Adjutant George Bender and Commander Bregger were appointed to assist Mike Murphy the Service Officer in this work.

Any returned veteran can apply to any Legionnaire, and especially to any of the above with all his papers, if he has them, or if there are any doubts as to his benefits, now or to accrue," said Commander Bregger. "The Legion's purpose is to make available the very efficient organization and experience it now has to eliminate the many war veterans of World War I in establishing claims for disability, pensions, hospitalization, or any advantages they have, or will later be given them."

KILLING FROST IN SOME PLACES

Old timers were a bit dubious about the reports of a frost killing beans early Thursday morning, but when beans that were dead and cabbage heads with ice in them were brought in, they had to admit it.

Reports as to the damage vary, but it is reported that about 2,000 acres along Road No. 26 were definitely out of competition for the balance of the spring.

Did You Know

That, with full consent and cooperation of the Board and incumbent "directors," this Community by public subscription provided finances for two years' operation and the purchase of some equipment for a crippled Children's Clinic and the Kinney Methods at the hospital?

BUT, certain progressive bureaucrats stopped it because the proposed patients weren't all clients of that society of Yankee sociologists that seem hell-bent on showing the southern white man how to handle the negro—contrary to the wishes of the thinking negro and his white friends?

Spring Championship Tournament Flights Ready For Play

Bill Schreiber, pro at the Country Club of the Everglades, has announced the three flights for men and for women, play to begin Saturday and end Wednesday each week.

First Flight: R. R. Taylor and H. R. Hitchcock; Chas. Puckett and O. G. McWhorter; E. M. VanLandingham and W. W. Weeks; J. W. Mosley and J. W. McElligan.

Second Flight: Lou Betzner and Jerry McKee; Geo. Bender and Jack Thorne; Caspar VanLandingham and "Drawn Bye"; Ed Crowley and a "Bye";

Third Flight: Luther Jones and Doc Elsberry; Otis Hayes and Chuck Forthing; J. Aspy and a "Bye"; Cliff Livingston and a "Bye."

In the women's flight: first flight: Zelma Betzner and Daphne Schreiber; a "Bye" and Bee Fleming; Katherine Thompson and Alyce VanLandingham; E. L. H. VanLandingham and Katherine Weeks.

Ladies' Second Flight: Grace Aspy and Mary Buck; Susan Connell and Kathleen Livingston; Dot Fording and Elizabeth Elsberry; Sue Buck and Lee Creel.

There should be some very interesting games before the tournament is over and not all of them in the first flight, and not all of them with the men, either.

James Gets Good Reception On His County Candidacy

Howard Jones, Lake Worth candidate for supervisor of registration, said this week that he had visited all parts of Palm Beach county and had received hearty assurances of support for his candidacy.

Mr. Jones is not only a native Floridian, but he is a native of Palm Beach county, having been born in West Palm Beach, where he attended the schools and later became identified with the plumbing business.

Mr. Jones is a resident of Lake Worth with Mrs. Jones, where he became plumbing inspector in 1935. By courtesy of the county, he was given time off to conduct his candidacy.

The Lake Worth candidate said he did not intend to rest on the wonderful encouragement he received on his first trip throughout the county, but intended to conduct a vigorous campaign down to the close.

Lions Win Prize For Sale Of Bonds At Everglades Fair

Joe Friedheim, chairman of the Fair committee, reported to the Legion Tuesday night that after the payment of all obligations, the Fair and Carnival netted something over $2,700, which includes profits from the program issued.

With an attendance of over 10,000 during the two weeks, and with stamps being used as admission, there will be something over $3,000 in bonds bought with these stamps.

A letter of commendation to the local Lions Club was authorized for its showing in selling $11,000 in bonds at the Fair, out of a total sale of something around $25,000 for the two weeks. A prize of a $50 bond was made to the Lions for their outstanding work.

Lex Green's Friends To Meet Saturday

Friends of Lex Green will hold a meeting at the City Hall Saturday night, April 8th, at 8 o'clock to form plans for his campaign.

All Lex Green supporters are urged to attend this meeting.

Farmers Will Not Get Their Investment Back For Season's Efforts

According to one well-informed broker, "From now on, it's not a question of whether a farmer has more money here the seasons efforts; it's a question of just how much of the money put in the ground can be salvaged, with more losses."

It is not a question of how much money the Glades farmers have made this season; it's a question of how much he can get by with losing. Any farmer who gets out with what he started with and no profit, is considered lucky.

One youngster, who is headed for Camp Blanning before long, said "I just want to stay here long enough to see how much of the $15,000 we still have in the ground we can salvage."

Bean prices for good beans is netting a profit but dry weather has greatly reduced the yield and cut markedly into the usual spring quality.

Celery is barely paying out harvesting costs.

Bean prices are selling for around a buck, but most of the cabbage are gone.

BOX SOCIAL

A box social, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association at the school cafeteria, South Bay, Friday evening, netted about $33.00 to the cafeteria fund. Men's neckties were auctioned off and the man purchasing the tie found his partner for supper by matching the tie to the apron worn by the lady. J. W. Stuckey, land acted as auctioneer. The evening was spent in playing various indoor folk games.

The kid who trapped a college education

Today is ten.

He lives in Mountain Lakes, New Jersey. There's a lake in back of the house, and a lake in front of the house, and between them runs a gay little brook.

Some time ago, when Tommy's book of War Savings Stamps wasn't filling up fast enough, he hit upon the idea of getting help from rats he knew. So he bought some traps, and set them in the brook for muskrats. So far he's caught a number of rats, and even a mink. And he has, earned by himself and in his own name, $200 worth of War Bonds!

Tommy puts 100% of all he earns into War Bonds. He's going to hang onto them, to assure himself of a college education and other benefits in the years that lie ahead. We think that a lot of his elders could learn from him.

WAR BONDS to Have and to Hold

Stuckey's Radio And Personal Visits Are Attracting Interest

West Palm Beach. — L. J. Stuckey, of Palokoke, Florida, farmer-business man candidate for Congress in the Sixth District, is planning a series of radio talks for the first two weeks in April that he believes will place his candidacy more favorably than ever before all the voters of the district. Two talks will go out from several radio stations on the East and West coasts on a schedule to be announced.

Mr. Stuckey, who was one of the first to announce for Congress when the new Sixth District was formed stands for "Winning the war justly," and "Peace by force with justice."

He has stated that he will support any economic sound national program to provide more adequate old-age pensions and will wage an aggressive fight in Congress to reduce prices for perishable vegetables.

For many years active as a farmer and business executive in Palm Beach County, Stuckey sees a tremendous growth and development in the post-war era. "Although we are now geared to winning the war," said Stuckey here this week, "we must not hesitate plans to cushion the job that is likely to come with peace. I am glad to note," he continued, "that most of the counties in the Sixth District are already thinking and working constructively along these lines, and as I go about the eleven counties in the district I am encouraging them to keep up the good work. I have convinced the localities that have their plans and blueprints ready to be the ones that gain through the opportunities that will be offered us when victory is won."

Stuckey has made several trips over the district and expressed himself as highly gratified with the aggressive support being accorded his candidacy. "I am convinced," he stated, "the good people in this new Sixth District are becoming more and more attracted to my candidacy which stands for more common sense business judgment and less misdirected politics in the National Government."

LATE BLIGHT IN POTATOES

The reports of blight in spring potatoes has become quite general, and until the recent rains some farmers were feeling very blue over chances for their spring potatoes.

Considerable damage has already been done, but it is hoped that the climate will help the dusting and spraying to save a good part of the crop.

Road To County Line From South Bay To Be Rebuilt In Summer

Commissioner Doyle Crocker is in receipt of a letter from O. G. Lindsey, State Road Board member from Miami, in which he states that "the department has completed the plans for this work and we expect to advertise for bids in the very near future. It is hoped work may be started in a short while, and the project completed before the heavy fall farming begins."

Mr. Lindsey also thanks Doyle for helping get the materials for this job "which will mean a great saving in the cost of the project."

Through Doyle's efforts the county furnished rock locally for the Palokoke-Belle Glade work, or at least an important part of it, and Mr. Lindsey expresses his thanks for this.

LIONS TO AWARD CUP TO BLUE DEVILS

The Belle Glade and Palokoke Lions Clubs will hold a joint meeting Wednesday night at the Palokoke High School, at which time the silver cup will be awarded to the Palokoke football team for having won the majority of games played by them.

SUPPORT PLEDGES GRATIFY SHERRILL

Publicity headquarters for the Sherrill-for-Congress campaign announce widespread activity by friends of Candidate V. Sherrill throughout many counties of the Sixth Congressional District as the campaign gradually warms up.

Fine results begin to show from this activity, in the way of more and more pledges of support for the Sherrill campaign being received daily at headquarters, while friends of the candidate are likewise return with news of expanding sentiment for Mr. Sherrill.

Wherever Mr. Sherrill appears in person he is being most cordially received, with expressions of accord with his platform principles and objectives, and with voluntary offers to distribute his campaign literature and further the progress of his campaign in other ways.

Last week Mr. Sherrill visited counties along the Atlantic seaboard from Hollywood to Vero Beach. This week he is visiting in central parts of the district, and may touch some western areas before the end of the week.

As an indication of the work being done by some of his supporters, his publicity manager reports that one person alone has mailed out some three thousand pieces of literature in Mr. Sherrill's interest to more than one thousand persons throughout the district during the past few days.

Mr. Sherrill says, "I am truly grateful for the kind support being tendered to me throughout the district, and wish those who support me to know that I shall honor their faith and confidence by doing the best job I can in the district, if nominated and elected congressman for the Sixth District."

Mrs. Sam Fleming Wave Recruiter

Mrs. Sam Fleming, long prominent in local civic and club affairs, has been appointed a volunteer WAVES recruiter for this city.

The appointment was announced today by Specialist R. L. Smith of the Navy Recruiting Service of Florida who came from Jacksonville to launch the Volunteer WAVES recruiter program for this town.

In accepting the appointment, Mrs. Fleming, one of over 100 prominent women in this state who have pledged their assistance to the Navy, said, "I am a student of young women for the women's reserve. Mrs. Fleming has been given complete information on the WAVES program, and all necessary forms for completing applications for enlistment. Interested persons are invited to contact her at her home, or by telephoning 213-1.

Basic requirements for enlistment in the WAVES Smith explained, include two years of high school or business college, ages 20-38, and if married, no minor children.

WAVE enlistees are sent to Hunter College in New York City for basic training. Following this training, some are assigned directly to naval shore establishments for the release of the aviation training program on sea duty, while others are sent to special schools for additional training before drawing duty assignments.

Local applicants for the WAVES may also contact the Navy Recruiting Station, post office building, West Palm Beach.

Seventeen Boys Join DeMolay

Led by Joe Cherry, 17 local boys went into West Palm Beach last week to be initiated into the DeMolay, a youth's organization sponsored by the Masonic Order.

Joe barbequed one of his fat boys and carried that to a donation toward the next treatment hour of the meeting.

Large Number of Negro Memberships Due to Co-Operation of Farmers

With possibly three times as many negro contributors as ever before, this Community successfully passed its quota for the Red Cross drive of $7,500 this week.

With the knowledge that farmers are bending every effort to make the red ink of losses as small as possible, Mrs. Bee Fleming devised and put in to execution a plan to get as much money from the highest paid farm workers in the U. S.—our bean pickers—as possible.

By cooperation of a great majority of the farmers Red Cross leaders and buttons were taken to the "paying-off" place and with exhorting of various types, "a dollar a head" was secured.

Such a campaign, expect to turn out a quota of $750,000 on a quota of $750,000 for Lake Harbor.

W. M. Taylor headed a negro team in the quarter, which turned in $387 from over 300 donors.

George Yon free-lancing, turned in $347, which represented $1.00 per each from cane cutters, which goes to the credit of South Bay.

Donations, Police Chief McAlister and Mayor Billy Jeffries, with the cooperation of several South Bay farmers, expect to carry South Bay well over their quota over the coming week, with dollar bills from bean pickers.

Mrs. Dan Mutchler handled the Town of South Bay, homes, and...

"We wish," said Mrs. Fleming, "to thank all of those who have helped with this drive. The boys are going to a most worthy cause, with a great majority of them for the use of our boys and girls in service, and it is our duty to know that 'Thanks to you' will be coming our way from every corner of the globe. It is our purpose to thank by making every effort, but if you are inadvertently omitted, please accept this as my Thank You."

Wave Recruiting Successful Here

A recruiter with appeal and a good story will tell of the service in the WAVES formerly in the WAVES.

Recently Elizabeth Williams and Mary Frances Dyer left for boot training and help, but if you are inadvertently omitted, please accept this as my Thank You."

Ruth Langford, one of the Dardennes; Phyllis Lee, daughter of J. T. Lee, and Martha Paff, sister of Mrs. Walter Ashley, are waiting orders to report for entrainment to New York for boot training.

Pay-As-You-Go Tax Plan Begins to Operate Apr. 15

You must file "Declaration of Estimated Income and Victory Taxes" unless "80 percent of your gross income is derived from farming and fishing, or must file by December 15th and pay all your income then.

If you report on a fiscal year basis, your first filing and paying the estimated tax will be the 14th day of the last month of the year.

With this April 15th report you must send in one-fourth of your income in one-fourth of the year. Thereafter, you can change at each filing date that is June 15, September 15 and December 15.

THE FREE GREEKS

"Choosing to die resisting, rather than to live submitting, they fled only from dishonor, but met danger face to face with freedom."

These words of Pericles are a fitting tribute to the Greeks, who today remember proudly that they were the first of the subject countries of Europe to rise against the old and oppressive Turkey. Resisting then, they helped to inspire an uprising that gave the Balkan countries their freedom. Resisting now the oppression from the west, they have helped to inspire larger nations than their own with the determination to be free which does not count the cost.

March 25 is Greece's independence day. The free world will join the Greeks, who still are at heart a free people, in the celebration of this significant date. —See below.

TOWARD LONGER AIR LINES

Since the law forbids all surface carriers to own overseas air lines, it is the appropriate and natural thing for the largest American domestic air operator, American Airlines, Inc., to purchase American Export Airlines, owned by the American Export Steamship Company and the only American competitor of Pan American Airways in overseas business.

Even though no domestic air line has heretofore engaged in overseas business, there is plenty of precedent to and within foreign countries. Seven American air lines have varying arrangements which they fly planes to Mexico and Canada.

The further application of American Airlines to consolidate two air-mail routes, so that mail between Boston and points beyond New York, west or south, need not be re-handled in New York, should by all means be granted. Such consolidation would permit through planes to operate to and from Boston and would be a tremendous advantage to travelers.

The development of longer air lines, especially where they leap overseas, will require watching. But it is a natural step and should be in the public interest. —See below.

SOLDIERS ARE OUR OWN BOYS

Most students of human behavior will decline to be alarmed at the dire predictions of a New York agent of the FBI that a number of 10,000 men, trained in the technique of killing, will create new problems in crime prevention. American soldiers have not turned criminals or killers when they returned from former wars.

American boys in this war have been trained to take human life only in the last two or three years. They were not professional soldiers. Neither were they like the Nazi youth, brought up from childhood with their minds closed to all the accepted virtues and open only to the fierce, pitiless emotions of their false and narrow philosophy. Like their British brethren in arms, Americans still retain the kindness, tolerance, sympathy — yes, respect for human life — developed in youth. Most of them will return to their old ways.

Moreover, some who might have become criminals in "normal circumstances" are more likely to have been indoctrinated in the Army with respect for law and order. They might even become policemen.

THE THEATERS DO A JOB

We are impressed by the efficient job the motion picture theaters are doing in their own national Red Cross drive this week. And it's a wonderful way for a fellow to increase his contribution to the point where he meant to increase it two weeks ago. In fact, everyone acts as though he were glad to respond to Humphrey Bogart's appeal from the screen. The theaters are doing a wonderful job in co-operating with such organizations, and with the Government. The National 15,000 theaters tell their story to 80 million persons each week. The screen does a job that can be more effective in some ways than either radio or newspaper.

PRICE CONTROL UPHELD

The United States Supreme Court is steadily following the direction taken since 1937, affirming the right of Congress to delegate to administrative agencies large powers of control over business. The two decisions just rendered, sustaining the authority of the Office of Price Administration to fix prices and rents, are clear examples of this great change.

There can be no doubt of the apparent need for much regulation. Wartime controls are supported by public opinion, and even in peacetime citizens are asking increasingly for control of many aspects of business even as they ask for traffic lights. Congress cannot legislate much more than a broad policy; the details must be left to administrators, with the citizen somewhat protected by court review from arbitrary action of officials.

These can be, as Justice Roberts warns, "petty tyrants," and constant vigilance is needed to hold them in check. The need for administrative controls and the danger that they will be abused present a real problem. But democracy has always had to deal with similar problems. If the people keep alive in themselves a love of liberty and independence, they can control governments which exercise so many new controls.

FOUR-F'S AND FARMS

So many objections to a National Service law arise, objections both practical and political, that it has been evident for some days a middle way would be sought. This way is now uncovered in the proposal to draft so-called 4-F's — which is to say the physically disqualified — for farm and factory work.

It is held by Selective Service that legislation on the books permits this, though it is not explained how the constitutional problem of drafting men to be used for somebody's private profit would be solved. Presumably, as has been suggested, the Army might induct them as soldiers and then assign them to labor battalions.

These various proposals have an indirect objective. They are aimed at focusing more pressure on the farms, whereby far the greatest number of the physically fit younger men that the Army really wants as fighters are still deferred, and are more or less protected by the Tydings Amendment which provides a vague deferment for farmers.

Naturally, at a time when the Department of Agriculture and the War Food Administration are striving to get continuously high food-production quotas, some definite provision must be made for the normal farm work and for the peak demands of harvesting time. The evident intention here is to offer 4-F's in return for the especially able-bodied youths of the farms.

This is an immense sacrifice to ask of the farmers, especially since on many farms the youths are members of the family and have special skills and "know-how" that city-bred 4-F's could not hope to duplicate quickly.

But it is a sacrifice that must be asked, if Army and Navy estimates of needs are to be accepted. And the turn of the fighting suggests that earlier plans for highly trained specialist fighters or airmen — quality vs. quantity — must be revised. Against every hope and expectation, the conclusion is being forced upon us that land masses of troops must be employed.

That means a sharp step-up of demands upon the young foot-soldiers. It concomitantly means that those remaining on the home front must realistically fly in the gaps.

No law can entirely meet the problem. It requires, as President Roosevelt very aptly says, some individual "soul-searching."

CINEMATIC CHATTER

By Malcolm Millar

One of the sweetest comedies, with a touch of thrilling drama, with which we have had here in some time will make its bow with the owl show, Saturday and the Sunday-Monday run, under the title "Government Girl." Starring in the picture are Olivia de Havilland and Sonny Tufts (Kansas in "So Proudly We Hail") and supporting them are such favorites as Anne Shirley, Jess Barker, James Dunn, Paul Stewart, Agnes Morehead, Harry Davenport and Ona O'Connor. When the priority pirates try sabotaging her bomb-building bureau Miss G. G. discovers she's in love... scandalizes smug capitol society and blows the lid of a trumped-up Senate investigation.

Radio's big bag of bombast Harold "Gildersleeve" Peary comes in Tuesday-Wednesday with Billie Burke, Claire Carleton, Richard LeGard ("Mr. Peary") and Freddie Mercer, with a show under the title "Gildersleeve on Broadway."

On the same bill will be seen "O, My Darling Clementine" with Frank Albertson, Lorna Gray, Acuff and His Orchestra and a host of other well known stars of the radio.

For the Thursday-Friday offering we find another bang-up Western picture under the title "The Kansan," which stars Richard Dix, Jane Wyatt and Albert Dekker and features Eugene Pallette, Victor Jory, Robert Armstrong, Clem Bevans and Rod Cameron.

Saturday brings William Boyd as "Hopalong Cassidy" in "False Colors."

"Quite a stack of newspapers I left you yesterday. Aren't you in the newspaper business, are you?"

"No, I just enjoy reading different papers so my nephew George sends them to me whenever he takes a business trip. I got a big kick out of some he sent me from several countries where they still have prohibition. Particularly from some headlines that read 'Drunk Driving Arrests Rise.'"

"Bootleggers must post Ceiling Prices?"

"Federal Agents seize 'Trick' Liquor Truck," doesn't that go to prove, Joe, that prohibition does not prohibit?"

"I watched conditions pretty carefully during our 13 years of prohibition in this country. The only thing I could see we got out of it was bootleg liquor instead of legal liquor... plus the worst crime and corruption this country has ever known."

OUR REPRESENTATIVES WILL HELP YOU SAVE ELECTRICITY, TIME AND FOOD

Conservation is nothing new to our versatile Representatives — it has been their stock-in-trade since 1925. In boom years, depression years, war years, economy is an important word in the fraternal home-maker's vocabulary.

And now — when the war demands conservation of horsepower, fuel, equipment food — from family, helpful assistance of our trained Representatives is more popular than ever.

For you want to know how to save electricity as well as personal energy... food as well as time... equipment as well as labor.

Our representatives will gladly advise you concerning the most efficient use and care of each of your electric appliances, as well as help you get them repaired when necessary. True, many of these trained men and women have gone to war, and this means that you will have to wait a while to get your call on promptly as they'd like to, but they'll call on you just as soon as they possibly can. Paul Rardin, editor of The Everglades News at Canal Point, for the past ten years, has announced his candidacy for county commissioner from the Glades district of Palm Beach County.

In commenting upon his candidacy, Rardin said: "I can envision the Lake Okeechobee region as the greatest agricultural empire in the world, and I would like to be a part of the county government that provides roads for transportation of these products. If our farming area is to take its rightful place in the economic scheme of things, then our growers must be provided with county roads and state highways over which to transport their products to markets and shipping points. As the Glades county commissioner I believe that I am capable of rendering a service which will be found beneficial to every resident of this section."

The Canal Point newspaper man is a former member of the State Legislature, having served in the 1937 session, at which time he was a proponent of all ills which would bring about better roads and highways in Florida. He is a former secretary and immediate past president of the Palokoe Rotary Club and during the years has been an ardent civic worker, always willing to do his share in any movement for the betterment of the Lake region.

Rardin is entering his campaign for election to this important office around a definite road program for the Everglades. He believes that this immediate section has too long been treated like a red-headed step-child in the state's development plans. If elected, Rardin will make a concerted effort to see that the Lake Region is capably and efficiently represented on the board of county commissioners, at all times making known to other members the needs of this vast agricultural section.

The installation ceremony will be conducted on April 18 in a program meeting.

Plans were discussed for the members to attend the state convention at Miami on May 2. It was reported that the club sold over $2,200 worth of War Bonds the one night it was in charge of the booth at the Everglades Fair. This was second high in sales any one night.

"For example these planners with whom I have constant contact, tell me that construction work (ready to go) on the proposed 4-lane highway from Jacksonville to Miami will require a force of 1200 persons. It is a practical project, as are many others, that will affect our Sixth Congressional District in post-war development."

"As outlined in my platform I was in the civilian ranks and the first candidate to announce for the district, I outlined virtually a complete post-war development plan. But what I am talking about now is something concrete — practical projects that fit into our future. Our armed forces do not want a dole. They want to fit into a constructive picture. We must give them what they want and the right congressman can make it work for the Sixth Congressional District."

A Partial Outline of What Mr. Sherrill Advocates

WINNING THE WAR
He will actively support our Commander-in-Chief and help win early decisive victory.

WINNING PERMANENT PEACE
To the end that our loved ones shall not have fought in vain, or go to war again.

CARING FOR VETERANS
A speedy return to government by the people for the people.

PROVIDING PENSIONS FOR THE AGED, DISABLED AND WIDOWS
He will support a National Program to give adequate pensions to the aged, the disabled, and widows with dependent children.

HELPING LABOR
Mr. Sherrill is a friend of labor, and believes that organized labor has vastly benefited all classes of labor.

MAINTAINING THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE
He advocates abolishment of the 1938 foreign trade act, and the removal of all unnecessary restrictions; ample tariff protection for Florida farmers and products against ruinous foreign competition; and equalization of freight rates to promote industrial employment and development.

stopped bobbing around like a cork, and with the changing of the wind, the boat was blown back into the water. The Navy, stationed at West Beach, spent the week-end with relatives in South Bay. A few days we were away to the north, but as we went along the beach it came out happened to be the beachhead of only a few months ago. I got out of the jeep and the boys went back to the water and came in again. I took some pictures as they came ashore. The Chief in charge of the jeep insisted on my going out with them and coming in while Ruble snapped us. Everyone on the beach seemed to be envious of us for having such a contraption and a camera. While there we visited another place which I cannot mention at this time, but a feeling of sorrow crept into our very souls as we looked on with hat in hand and a bowed head. After staying there for awhile we were soon off to parts unknown to the most of us. We cruised along the shore on the road and soon came to some roads leading up into the hills. These hills sure look like mountains to me. Our jeep having four-wheel drive, we were soon on our way upon grades I have never seen on any American highways, but in low gear and pulling on all four, we were soon winding our way to the top. When we got to the top the jeep actually looked as if it were being pulled up the hill. From this spot we could see the complete island on which our assignment had been done. This assignment turned out to be more than a little project, but many. Almost from any direction we could see the handwork of the "Fighting Seabees," and I must say it's a wonderful job.

"On the way down we suddenly decided we did not have any brakes and several times the skilled Colorado Chief had to drive the vehicle into the side of the mountain to keep from discovering another way of traveling for an amphibious jeep—lying. After reaching the bottom, we all breathed a sigh of relief, and were soon speeding on our way to other parts unknown. As we drove along, at first the roads were small, but as we went along they became worse and terrible. Finally, we parked the jeep and started walking. It did not take us long to get tired, and we were also hungry. As we were walking through this hot, steamy jungle we heard the faint rumble of falling water. After an investigation we discovered a small but beautiful waterfall, and after looking over the situation over we decided to ascend a fallen tree to the bottom. Having slid down the tree, we then prepared lunch, which consisted of boned canned chicken, bread and pickles. Being very hot and tired from the long walk, naturally the thoughts of getting into the water occurred to us. Ruble led the way, and soon all of us were in the water. We were playing around like a bunch of kids. After leaving our private little waterfall, we began to get hot again, and we were back there. On we walked until we came to a large Banyan tree, the largest tree I have ever seen. We took several pictures of it. I wanted to take one showing the full length of the tree, but it being so high and the jungle being so thick, I could not get far enough away to get it all into view. I found of my camera. The water was two limbs lying on the ground nearby. We looked up about 100 feet and saw where they came from. The limbs were as large as some of the trees on the island. We wondered how those limbs were torn from the tree, and finally agreed they must have been knocked off by lightning or something.

On we went further into the jungle. It was very hot and steamy, but we kept on. We heard some children talking and playing in the water. We went on down to where they were and watched them. Trying to use some American psychology by getting the children to pose, we thought the mothers, who were nearby, would come over to get them to take their pictures, but when they saw us they thought we were going to get into the pictures and gave the kids some chewing gum. We noticed there were three of the children who would not leave the deeper water, but when Ruble produced the gun they came out. They were shortly found out why they were so shy. They were girls without any clothes on. We then went on up to the village, a short distance from this small creek. We sat around there for an hour or two. We saw some native women around, so we went with the women, expecting to get a prize-winning photo of these, two luscious babes just as we wanted them. We felt sure we could get them to disrobe some Seabee underneath they had on, but when we propositioned them, they not only wanted a "dollar" for each picture, but were indignant at our rude requests. One of them have been reading too many Movie Magazines and became a bit "Hollywoodish." So with no pictures there, we lit out for home.

"The thoughts of the return trip was awful, but we drug on. It was a happy bunch when we did finally reach the jeep. All of us being very tired, we were very happy to take every short-cut back to our camp. We took a shower when we got back and felt much better. I tanned a little more from the trip without a shirt. As time as we were, we all went to the show that night.

"We have been having some fairly good shows and the time is getting better all the time. Saturday night we had a 'Smoker.' A Smoker in the Navy is wrestling, and boxing, etc. We saw some good matches. Naturally we had to have a bit of comedy, so one of my friends, a cook, and another fellow, put on a gag fight. Having fought two rounds with the referee getting the worst of the bout, the officials ruled that our mascot, a cute little bulldog, who was as much as the two fellows, had won the both rounds.

guavas, or raw cabbage. Two or more servings of whole grain or enriched bread and other cereals such as oatmeal or brown wheat cereal. These cereals are more nutritious than grits or rice. Butter or fortified margarine in moderate amounts. In addition, most physicians recommend cod liver oil or some type of concentrate of vitamin "A" or "B."

Both mother and baby get along better if the mother does not gain more than 20 to 25 pounds during pregnancy. Unless she is underweight before pregnancy. If she gains too fast, or makes a sudden gain, a physician should be consulted at once. A sudden gain in weight is often a danger signal which should be respected, and inspected.

Weight can usually be controlled by using more green vegetables and fresh fruit, less bread, cereals and fats (including fat meat) and fewer desserts. It may be necessary to use skim milk or buttermilk in place of whole milk—but milk in some form should be used.

Ration boards have recognized the special needs of pregnant women, and will allow extra points when needed to provide an adequate diet. The application for supplementary points must be signed by the attending physician, however.

In addition to an adequate diet, prospective mothers should have plenty of rest and sleep, regular habits of elimination and moderate exercise out doors daily. They should of course, be under the regular care of a physician whenever possible.

Expectant Mothers Are Given Advice

Nutritionist Vera Walker, State Board of Health, admitted yesterday that the world is full of new inventions and quicker ways of doing things, but insisted that it still takes as long, and the same amount of good, balanced food to produce a healthy baby as it did in grandmother's day.

With the prevalent, overworked doctor-condition, mothers must take advantage of every possible means to keep themselves in order to produce healthy babies.

"Moore and more we are realizing the importance of the mothers diet in maintaining her health and strength during pregnancy — of enabling her to bear a baby in excellent physical condition, and to assure herself of an adequate supply of good-quality breast milk."

"We certainly know that healthy babies can't be made from coffee and doughnuts, hot and cold drinks. It takes milk, eggs, lean meat and plenty of fruit and vegetables to give a baby the start in life she deserves."

"Unless a physician puts an expectant mother on a special diet because of a particular condition, a mother-to-be should eat the following foods every day:

A quart of milk or its equivalent in evaporated or dried milk. One banana.

One serving of lean meat, fish or chicken. Bacon and fat meat should not be counted as meat.

Tallahassee (Special)—Representatives of all the candidates for governor who accepted the invitation of Millard Caldwell to play a series of joint appearances on the same spot were expected to meet today at Orlando to decide upon dates.

The plan for joint appearances is based upon saving gasoline, tires and time for the people of each community, besides giving them an opportunity of seeing and hearing all candidates at one time.

The telegram from Caldwell to the five other candidates reads as follows:

"For several worthwhile reasons set forth below I propose that all six candidates for governor of Florida meet at the same times and places on a number of occasions mutually agreeable, from a half dozen to once each night until the close of the first primary campaign."

"Such an arrangement would, most importantly, enable the citizens to see and hear all candidates at one time, and make one trip from their homes to the meeting place, thus saving them time, gasoline and tires, all of which are at a premium in this critical war period. It would enable the citizens to compare the personalities and messages of the candidates by seeing and hearing them together. It would enable any one of us, against whom charges have been made or rumors spread, to give his answer and make a counter first hand.

"Reports reaching me confirm, what is already apparent, that those who have attended political speakings during this campaign, that only a small percentage of the total number of voters has attended the public appearance of any candidate for governor in any community in Florida; that the number of voters to have personal knowledge of the candidates is very small; that the number of voters in order that they may more intelligently make a choice. WOMAN'S CLUB HAS REGULAR MEETING

Mrs. J. R. Neller was in charge of the program on literature, at the regular meeting of the Woman's Club, Wednesday afternoon, and gave a review of the book, "Grandma Drive South," by Constance Jordan Henry. The story deals with a motor tour of South American countries.

Mrs. Luther Jones presided over the business session, announcing that the next meeting will be the annual meeting when reports of all committee chairmen will be given for the year. The group voted to join the Florida Forest and Park Association. The name of Mrs. Charles Fontaine was presented for membership and will be voted on at the next meeting.

Others attending were Mrs. Rebecca Braddock, Mrs. Hugh Bradley, Mrs. Thomas Bregger, Mrs. J. P. Browne, Mrs. James Ball, Mrs. Milton Campbell, Mrs. Robert Y. Creech, Mrs. O. H. Enwood, Mrs. Ralph Freeman, Mrs. J. R. Neller, Mrs. Lee Puckett, Mrs. George Royal, Mrs. M. M. Sabiston, Mrs. Pete Seaman, Mrs. C. H. Thompson, Mrs. B. Q. Waddell, Mrs. Cees Peet, Mrs. L. N. Johnson, and Mrs. Quentin Starling.

INCREASES IN OLD AGE GRANTS IS EXPLAINED

State Welfare Commissioner, Leland W. Hiatt, has called the attention of the District No. 10 Welfare Board to the expediency of explaining that although additional racing revenues have made it possible to increase the average old-age grant from $13.50 per month to $24.00 per month, this does not mean that all recipients will get the latter amount or the same amount according to announcement yesterday of Mrs. R. L. Murray, District Board member. The explanation, Hiatt had said, would clear up considerable misunderstanding that he has found to exist generally.

"By average old-age grant is meant the figure that would be arrived at if all the money paid recipients of old-age assistance was divided by the number of recipients," Commissioner Hiatt had asked the district board to explain. "As a matter of fact," he explained, had continued, "a good many of the needier old-age recipients are now getting the maximum grant of $40.00 per month, while some of the least needy cases are receiving the minimum of $3.00 per month. It is unreasonable to suppose that those receiving $40.00 per month would be reduced to $24.00, or that those receiving $3.00 would be increased to $24.00. As the old-age program is strictly an assistance program, the amount of each grant must be based on the need of the person to whom it is paid." Hiatt called attention to the fact that the State Welfare Board had previously authorized an increase in the old-age grant, using funds guaranteed by the cigarette tax, and that it was possible to make a second increase only because of an unusually good racing season. The second distribution, he said, would be made in April to all except a few whose cases have not as yet been reviewed.

It's our belief that a man in our block can more energetically go after a bit of street paving of our block than a man on the other side of Town who needs a ditch cleaned.

It's our belief that our neighbor, our daily associate and the man who has helped make the community what it is, deserves our political support.

Following that principle, and for the further reason we believe each of our fellow citizens are eminently qualified for the jobs they seek, WE WILL SUPPORT LENNIE, HERBERT, JOHN AND DICK, AND WE WON'T "TRADE OFF" ANY OF THEM.
